The project entailed the refurbishment of the luxury private dining room on the first floor of the Admiral Codrington pub and was finished to a very high specification in a short period of time. As the Admiral Codrington is a famous pub in the heart of Chelsea the project had to be delivered without disturbing the local community whilst still retaining a very high standard that reflected the quality of the Cirrus Inns brand. Working in an occupied environment caused difficulties to on site deliveries and storage of materials on site but with good site management the team were able to tackle the logistics and cause very little disruptions to the day to day running of the pub and surrounding areas.
